AFFECTIONATELY DEDICATED TO

Kimberly Sue Lash (born April 10, 1983); being pregnant with you prompted me to find an outlet for my excess energy and to assist, in some small way, the W.C.G.S. with its goal of preserving county genealogical records in order that future generations, like you and your three sisters, may utilize these early marriage records to glean information about your ancestors. You are my cause and my result.

Doris Brown Rath; possessing expert secretarial skills and the willingness to accomplish the tedious, time-consuming task of typing the extracted marriage data onto manuscript pages that are attractive, well organized, and easy to use. You are the hands of this project.

Madonna Muehlfeld Geiselman; assisting with the initial phases of this project and suggesting methods of compilation. You are the catalyst of this project.

Ernest K. Gentit; volunteering to check alphabetical arrangement of the last two boxes of index cards prior to typing greatly helped us finish this project well before our projected deadline.

COMPILER'S PREFACE

Before one utilizes the data herein presented, one must understand several facts about the "original" volumes found at the Williams County, Ohio, Probate Court. The late Paul Van Gundy, a noted local historian and author, once wrote the following to a family researcher seeking help with data for a Joseph Stubbs:

> "There is very little on Joseph in our county records. Joseph STUBBS and 'Sodica' REYNOLDS were married November 20, 1836, by Jonathan TAYLOR, J.P. I suspect that 'Sodica' should be 'Rebecca'. The original marriage records have been lost; no one knows where they are. About sixty years ago a probate judge, not noted for his accuracy, had the original handwritten records copied on typed sheets. I have found other errors in them."

At the end of Volumes I and II, which are combined in one book, the following statement appears:

> "Volumes I and 2 are copied from original transcripts . . . Bryan, Ohio, December 18, 1906 - F. M. Frazier, Probate Judge, Williams County, Ohio."

Apparently the original transcripts were indexed and then hand-copied by a county official(s) as most of handwriting is similar and at times difficult to interpret. The typed index which precedes each volume only cited the first page where the entry could be found, did not always have the correct page(s) of the entry, omitted some entries found within the volume, listed marriage applicants for whom there is no entry, and showed surname spellings that varied from the actual entry.

Later these volumes were microfilmed, the first three of which were copied onto one roll, and were recently placed with other genealogical records housed at the Bryan Public Library. Dimness and scratches on the microfilm made it difficult to read some of the data. When these records were microfilmed, some of the pages were copied two or three times in order to get all the data from these oversized volumes. Both the printed and microfilm sources were consulted when compiling the data for this project. In most cases, the data was copied exactly the way it appeared. The following will serve as examples of this:

1.) The month of April contains 30 days, but yet the marriage entry for Thomas JACKSON and Rosanna THOMPSON, I:58, clearly states the date of marriage as April 31, 1842.

2.) A marriage application may be listed twice with two separate entries on the same page. One of the applicants may have two different name spellings, the same name spelling for the other applicant, and the same marriage date. In Vol. II:143, June 7, 1854, we find William Henry ROWELL marrying Sarah Lavina POOL. On the same page, we also find William Henry ROXWELL marrying Sarah Lavina POOL on the same date. These were treated as two separate entries in this project.

3.) A marriage entry may have two different name spellings, yet be reasonably similar, and are listed on two different pages with different entry dates. J. P. ROBINSON married Jannette BRAKINRIDGE on March 19, 1866 (Vol. III:596), while Joseph B. ROBINSON applied for a license on April 17, 1866 (Vol. III:550) to marry Jeanette BRACKINRIDGE.

4.) The same marriage partners, or so they appear, with both first and last names spelled exactly the same, may appear with different marriage dates in two different volumes. Daniel SHELHART married Elizabeth FOLK on November 8, 1855 (Vol. II:161), while Daniel SHELHART married Elizabeth FOLK on August 14, 1867 (Vol. III:702). These two may be the same couple or different parties with the same names. They were treated in this work exactly as they appeared in the records as two different entries.

5.) If a date in the marriage entry was difficult to interpret, several possibilities are given. Joseph SMITH married Mary A. AYERS, Vol. III:450, on July 23 or July 29, 1865. By citing the volume and page, we hope anyone interested in such a marriage will personally check the date for his/her own interpretation.

6.) A complete marriage entry would contain the following information: the first and last names of both applicants, the date on which the marriage license was issued, the date on which the marriage was performed, and the date the marriage was filed and recorded.

A.) From Vol. I:27, Benoni L. PACKARD married Hannah SEVERANCE on January 16, 1838. This is the date the marriage was performed, and this is the date used when compiling this volume.

B.) If the only date found was that of the marriage application with no date of the marriage performed or no date of the marriage filed and recorded, an asterisk (*) is used. *Lafayette ESTERLINE and Sarah R. SHEPHARD applied for a marriage license on April 2, 1867 (Vol. III:670). From this record we do not know whether the marriage was actually performed.

C.) In a few cases the date of application and the date the marriage was filed and recorded are listed but the date on which the marriage was performed is not. Jorel POOL and Samantha BARKER applied for a license in December 1843 and their marriage was recorded January 1, 1844 (Vol. I:71). The actual date of the ceremony was missing, but can be interpreted as sometime between or on one of these two dates. A double asterisk () denotes these findings.

Overall, the genealogical data for each marriage included in this book has been arranged in the following manner:

1.) Alphabetical listing by surname for both the male and female applicants to serve as an easy-to-use cross-reference and to eliminate the need for an every-name index. If a surname was difficult to read or if it was spelled differently within the entry or from the index to the entry, the varied spellings are included and alphabetically listed for each spelling.

2.) Volume and page number of each marriage entry listed with the volume in Roman numerals and separated from the page number using a colon - III:638. Citing the specific location of the entry should be helpful to those who wish to obtain a copy of the entry either from the printed manuscript or the microfilm roll.

3.) Dates arranged by day, abbreviated month, and year - 1 Jan 1867.

4.) Additional data not found in the indices to the marriage volumes but included within the actual entry can be found in this volume.

A.) Letter of permission such as:

MASTERS, Tryphena/HAGERMAN, Abraham
(Letter of permission from her father - 28 Oct 1852)

B.) Residence of one or both applicants which was located outside of Williams County, Ohio, such as MARTIN, Lucretia/MORRIS, Dan of Jennings Twp., Putnam Co., Ohio.

C.) Title or addition to the surname of one or both marriage applicants, such as: Jr., Sr., Mrs., and Dr.
BROWN, Sarah (Mrs.)/RICE, Christopher D.
JOHNSON, John (Jr.)/SAWYER, Anna

Finally, as a point of interest, the Stories of the Fountain City, Paul Van Gundy, 1975, p. 154, cites, "the first (marriage license) within the present limits of Williams County" was in 1841, obtained by Aaron Bennett, who walked from near Evansport (present-day Defiance County) to Bryan. By utilizing the material in this book, one can learn that Aaron Bennett married Rebecca Shaffer on July 1, 1841. The marriage entry can be found in Volume I, page 53.

COMPILER'S PREFACE

Before one utilizes the date herein presented, one must understand several facts about the "original" volumes at the Williams County, Ohio Probate Court. The late Paul Van Gundy, a noted local historian and author, once wrote the following to a family researcher seeking help: "The original marriage records have been lost; no one knows where they are. About sixty years ago(currently more like ninety) a probate judge, not noted for his accuracy, had the original handwritten records copied on typed sheets. I have found other errors in them."

Apparently the original transcripts were indexed and then hand copied by a county official(s) as most of the handwriting is similar and at times difficult to interpret. The typed index that precedes the volume only cited the first page where the entry could be found, did not always have the correct page(s) of the entry, omitted some entries found within the volume, listed marriage applicants for whom there is no entry, and showed surname spellings that varied from the actual entry.

Later the volume was microfilmed and placed with other genealogical records housed at the Bryan Public Library. Dimness and scratches on the microfilm made it difficult to read some of the data. When these records were microfilmed, some of the pages were copied two or three times to get all the data from these oversized volumes. Both the printed and microfilm sources were consulted when compiling the data for this project. In most cases the data was copied exactly the way it appeared.

A complete marriage entry would contain the following information: the first and last names of both applicants, the date on which the marriage license was issued, the date on which the marriage was performed and the name of the official performing the marriage, the date the marriage was filed and recorded, letters of permission from a parent, usually the bride's oldest male relative, and residence of one or both of the applicants which was located outside Williams County, Ohio. A good research practice would be to check the record for all these extra bits of data as not all of this is included in this research source.

What is included in this book?

- An alphabetical listing by surname for both male and female applicants to serve as an easy-to-use cross-reference and to eliminate the need for an every-name index.
- Date of marriage arranged by day, abbreviated month, and year.
- Page number within the volume aiding anyone who wishes to obtain a copy of the entry either from the printed manuscript or the microfilm roll.
- An asterick * to indicate the date is that of license application or the date of filing and recording where no marriage date is listed. A --- is used to indicate when the names of the applicants are listed but there is no date for any proceedings.
